

Sydney Harbour Bridge

INFRASTRUCTURE IMPROVEMENTS

Sydney Harbour maritime exclusion zone

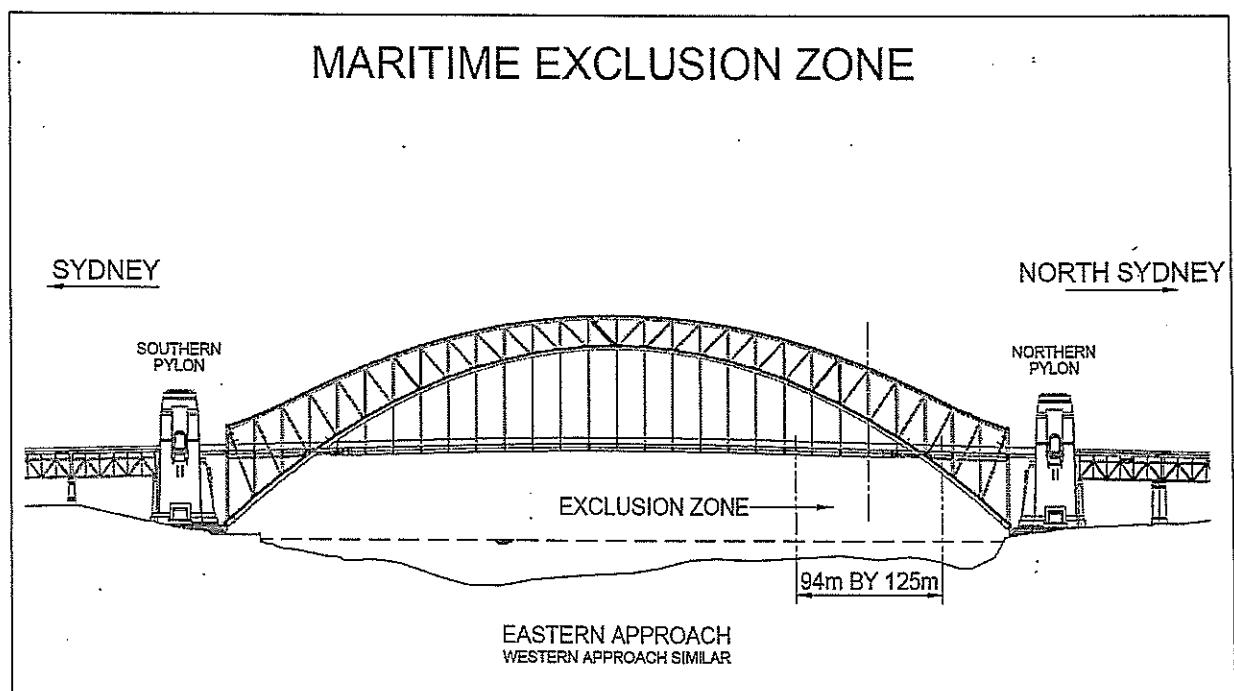

25 February 2008

Dear mariners,

The Sydney Harbour Bridge is regularly undergoing improvement, maintenance and further upgrading to ensure its longevity. A program of works has been scheduled with completion planned for mid 2009 to be delivered by Bridgeworks Alliance, a team consisting of the Roads and Traffic Authority (RTA), Baulderstone Hornibrook, Connell Wagner and Austress Freyssinet.

Please be advised that from 6am Monday 3 March to midnight Thursday 6 March 2008 a maritime exclusion zone will operate under the Sydney Harbour Bridge. The size of this zone is approximately 100 metres wide and 120 metres in length and is located towards the northern shoreline.

In the event of poor weather and the scheduled exclusion zone cannot go ahead, this activity will be programmed to occur the following week, commencing on Monday 10 March 2008, or alternatively the week commencing on Monday 17 March 2008.
